Taylor is a director of client solutions supporting Employers Health clients throughout the United States. In this role, she provides customized support to benefit professionals to ensure proactive and collaborative management between Employers Health clients and its PBM and other employee benefits provider vendors.

Prior to joining Employers Health, Taylor worked in the health care industry in various positions including clinical trial manager and health coach. She obtained her bachelor's degree in biology from the University of Mount Union in 2015 and her master's degree in healthcare administration and management from Colorado State University in 2017. Before beginning her professional career, Taylor directed the marching band in both high school and college.
