CLIENT SOLUTIONS SPECIALIST

nsmith@employershealthco.com | 234-401-9843

Nick is a client solutions specialist supporting the Employers Health team by collaborating with employers and their benefits teams to provide customized support throughout the United States to ensure high rates of fulfillment and retention.

Nick graduated from The University of Akron with the honor of magna cum laude while obtaining a double major in supply chain and sales management. He interned with the sales and marketing team at Employers Health before joining the organization's client solutions team full time. When Nick is not working with benefits professionals, he is talking about the Cleveland Browns, on the golf course or volunteering within the community.
